

Sno Week Reaches Climax Show, Ball Top the Festivities Sno Queen Named Tonight

UMD's seventh annual Sno Week will reach its climax with the announcement and coronation of the Sno Queen at tonight's Sno Show, and Saturday evening's Sno Ball.

The Sno Show will begin at 8 p. m. in Main auditorium. According to the show's director, Doug Rapp, "It will be a unique program, featuring both professional and student talent." The announcing of the results of the Sno Queen balloting and the presentation of the participation trophy will highlight the evening.

One of the five finalists, Barb Ball (STATESMAN), Janet Betty (Beta Phi Kappa), Maureen Harrington (Vet's Club), Sigie Peterson (Sigma Tau Kappa), and Nancy Piper (Sigma Phi Kappa) will be named 1957 Sno Queen by Shirley Sinko, 1956 Queen.

KSC HOSTS BALL

The KSC ballroom will host the Sno Ball from 9 p. m. to midnight tomorrow evening. The semi-formal dance will feature the music of Rod Aaberg and his orchestra. Aaberg and his musicians are a favorite of the Minneapolis campus, according to the Sno Week committee.

Gayle Kennedy, Sno Week Chairman expressed her thanks to everyone who contributed to and participated in this year's Sno Week. "I sincerely hope that everyone has enjoyed the week as much as I have enjoyed working on it. I am especially grateful to my fine committee."

Sno Week Head, Trophy

Pictured on the left is Gayle Kennedy, 1957 Sno Week Chairman, with participation Trophy, which will be awarded to the winning organization at this evening's Sno Show.

Shirley Sinko, Homecoming Queen, Helen Edman, and a city barber selected senior, Dave Mason, as the 1957 Sno King at the "Hard Time" square dance on Wednesday.

Redbearded Mason was presented with a gift certificate for a plaid shirt from McGregor and Soderstrom's mens' store and a tube of Burma shave. Mason will reign at Saturday evening's Sno Ball along with the 1957 Sno Queen.

GAME RESULTS

The Vet's club met defeat at the hands of Sigma Tau Kappa in the broom ball finals. The Sigma Phi Kappa girls and Sigma Tau topped Beta Phi Kappa and Gamma Omicron Beta in the first round of the mixed broom ball games, while WAA was triumphant over United Youth Fellowship in the women's division.

Sigma Tau claimed its second first place by sweeping the dog sled races and shared another first place with Sigma Phi when they teamed again for the mixed event.

The festivities of this weekend will be the culmination of a series of events which included an overnight ski trip to Grand Marais, Tuesday's snow sculpture and racing competition, Wednesday's square dance and beard judging, queen campaigns and all-school balloting.

Registration Announcements

Robert J. Falk, director of OSPS, announced that registration materials are available today, Feb. 15.

Advisement has been scheduled for Feb. 18-21 and 25. The next opportunity for advisement will be April 1, the first day of Spring Quarter classes.

Bachelor of Science students taking group leadership must contact Miss Staple, room 205, in the Lab School on Feb. 18-21, 25-26 from 9 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

Commission-Charter 'Issues' Explained by KUMD Prexy

When the Student Commission was presented with the constitution of the UMD Broadcasting Service on Tuesday Feb. 5, for ratification, they voted negatively. They felt that the Constitution wasn't workable from their point of view for two main reasons which they presented in the form of a resolution:

1. The Student Commission felt that the functions of the UMD Broadcasting Service Executive Board should be spelled out in greater detail; and

2. The Student Commission also wants a non-voting representative on the executive board.

Dick Gottschald, UMD Broadcasting Service president, presented his reasons in answer to these arguments:

"1. KUMD is not spelling out details in this way because the executive board in the future will offer more latitude for student participation and will be flexible enough to handle problems which may arise. If the executive board's duties were

'Chest' Stalks Bird-Dogs Pennies to Pick 'Top Dog'

By NEIL LANDRY

Through the efforts of the Campus Chest committee, talented BIRD-DOGS will have an opportunity to display their wares and win the distinction of being called MR. BIRD-DOG of UMD. An all-campus contest will be conducted during Campus Chest week to single out such an individual and bring him the fame he so justly deserves.

Each organization on campus may nominate a candidate for the office by contacting Dick Fonger in the KSC office of student organizations or by leaving the name of their candidate in P. O. 193 in the same room by noon, Feb. 15. All candidates will meet to discuss their campaigns in room 211, KSC, at 2 p. m., Feb. 15.

To inform the uninitiated, one might define a bird-dog as a sort of peripatetic gigolo, that is to say, a chap that makes a habit of breaking in on a couple, and, through his worldly patter and suave behavior, manages to induce the unsuspecting female to steal off with him at the expense of the unhappy male. This is not to say that the party-goer thus left in the lurch will be left dateless for the remainder of the evening, for there is nothing in the rules to say that the victim cannot search out another female and bird-dog her. Some males have been known to develop a masterful technique after having had two or three dates removed by talented bird-dogs.

Fourth Year Universal Day of Prayer on Sunday

For the fourth year the Universal Day of Prayer for Students will be sponsored by the Protestant members of the UMD Religious Council. Council members, with Raymond Leland as chairman, have completed plans for this ecumenical service. This Day of Prayer has been held annually since 1895 and has served in uniting students around the world in the common experience of prayer and worship and helped them to transcend the barriers which divide them.

Our UMD service will be held in Glen Avon Presbyterian church, Feb. 17 at 7:30 p. m. Reverend Frank Edmond See will give the sermon and the Lutheran Student Association choir will sing. Students from the different Protestant religious organizations will lead the other parts of the service.

Frank Edmond See, a Baptist minister, was born in Toronto, Canada, where he received his university and seminary training. From 1940 to 1943 he served in the Canadian army as an Auxiliary Service Officer. He has served in churches in Winnipeg, Canada and Owatonna, Minnesota, and is presently minister of the United Baptist Christian church in Duluth. In the summer of 1954, Mr. See was a member of a study tour to the Middle East sponsored by the American Christian Palestine committee. He also travelled in Europe as a member of a party which included such varied backgrounds as noted educators, state department officials, jurists, newspaper people and ministers.

WASHBURN 109

Last Saturday Hamline fans moved into the Phy Ed building to observe a crucial conference game and left that building after having defeated not only the Bulldog five, but the UMD 2,000.

Much comment resulted from the Saturday meeting, but very little was provoked by the actual match on the court. The comment was provoked by the match between the fans.

The UMD cheering section cheered, but the cause of that cheering also defeated it. The small Hamline aggregation recreated the role of David in the face of UMD Goliath. The UMD band was present, in all their splendor, but a five piece Hamline group managed to dull the pomp and circumstance with their versatile, impromptu performance.

Reider Lund stated that UMD lacks individuality. We do need our own songs and yells, but what we need most is confidence in our existence. We need to wake up and realize that UMD is here, that we are UMD. Other institutions appreciate our potential and prowess, but UMDites are not aware of the importance of their own existence as a body.

It might be well for the administration to take the first step by attaching "Duluth Branch", of U of M to that diploma. It's high time that we distinguish ourselves, not only athletically, but academically.

Tweed Korean Show Opens

By TOM TAYLOR

An art program which is probably unique in the United States is being instituted at UMD under the auspices of the main campus. This program is part of a "hands across the sea" brotherhood movement which is gaining momentum throughout the world.

For quite some time the U of M has been sending faculty members, in an advisory capacity, to the National University of Seoul, Korea—the "sister" U of the U of M. The fields involved were generally agriculture and home economics, and now the consensus is that there should be a cultural exchange as well.

Faculty and students from the art department of the University of Seoul have presented us with an art exhibit as a part of a cultural exchange between the United States and Korea, and a collection is being prepared by our students and faculty to send to Korea.

The Korean exhibit has been presented before only at the main campus, and after the showing at Tweed Gallery it will go on a state-wide tour.

The Korean collection consists of some 45 pieces which are primarily in the style of the Orient, but there is some definite Western influence in the designs and commercial illustrations which make up the exhibit. According to Fred Triplett, Curator of Tweed Gallery, all the items show a high degree of skill and craftsmanship and are beautiful even to the inexperienced eye.

The showing will begin Sunday, February 17, and continue through Saturday, March 9. Tweed Gallery is open from 1-5 p. m. daily, except Monday, and an invitation is extended to everyone to view these fine examples of Korean art. This is an opportunity no one should miss.

CRATES OPENED—Curator Fred Triplett is shown uncrating the works of art to be exhibited in Tweed Gallery during the Korean show which opens there this Sunday.

Dancing Classes Offered

By RON PETERSON

If you are one of the individuals who has been mumbling the words, "Sure wish I could dance," your troubles are about to be over. Starting on Monday, February 25, the Social and Special Events Committee of KSC will begin a series of dancing classes. Fox trot, two-step, waltz, tango rhumba and all the others will be included in the instructions.

To get into this dance instruction program you must sign up at the Student Activities office in KSC and leave a $2 deposit. This amount will cover a four-week dance instruction period which will be held every Monday night. The instruction is open to every UMD student, and as the program grows, parties and regular dances will be set up after the instruction period.

This will be the start of another fine program at UMD's KSC if the students will participate in making it a success. So if you've been having dancing troubles, a small $2 fee is all it will take to get you a pair of "dancin' feet."

Radio Free Europe Airs Truth Overseas

Americans may take the truth for granted. But to the seventy million captive people in the Soviet satellite countries of Europe, truth is among the scarcest things in life. You can sponsor a Minute of Truth with every dollar you give to the support of Radio Free Europe. The privately-operated network is a powerful source of truth behind the Iron Curtain. It broadcasts up to 20 hours of truth a day to the people of Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Poland. Radio Free Europe keeps their hope alive, builds their continued will to resist. You can help by supporting UMD's Campus Chest, taking place on campus the week of February 25—March 3. The battle for men's minds is on. Fight it with truth—our strongest weapon.

Surveys Return

Of 84 registration surveys returned to the Office of Student Personnel Services, 77 faculty members indicated that they preferred a one-day registration period. Three were opposed and four had no opinion. Therefore, the one-day card distribution period will be on Wednesday, February 27. Advisement is officially scheduled for February 18 through 21 and on February 25. There is no advisement scheduled after February 25. Students not registering at the specified time will not be permitted to register until April 1, which is the first day of spring quarter classes.

To make sure that UMD dormitory girls kept regular hours, the Women's Dormitory council decreed last fall that curfew-breakers would be campused one night for every two minutes late. And not only would offenders be confined to the dormitory, but would have to remain fully-dressed to report once an hour til midnight to the counselor.

Charter . . .

spelled out specifically, the constitution would have to be revised continuously in order to work with specific problems; and

2. Is it necessary for the UMD Broadcasting Service to have a representative from the Student Commission when the executive board already has a representative from KSC which is responsible to the commission? Like any other campus organization, we will send a representative to CSO as additional student representation.

The UMD Broadcasting Service constitution was passed by the students, the administration and KSC, but when it reached the Student Commission, they disapproved the constitution. KUMD asks why should these two particular phases of the constitution present such a large drawback to the ratification of the charter?

The resolution presented by the Student Commission is being forwarded to the Faculty Commission on Student Affairs, a committee of the Provost.

But Gottschald feels that by doing this, an element of student government may be defeated.

So far the rule has been very effective, according to Mrs. Malve A. Secord, resident counselor of Torrance hall. In fact, not one campus rule has been broken by a Torrance girl, and very few by girls of the new dormitory. The curfew of midnight on weekdays and 2 a. m. on weekends was the unanimous choice of both dormitories.

"I think, in the opinion of the girls," said Marion Kukkola, resident of Torrance, "that camping is as good a way as any to get the girls in on time. We can't let them run wild. The rule is plenty liberal."

Although the men are not required to check in or out of the dormitory as the girls are, they also keep surprisingly early hours, Mrs. Secord declared.

The Women's Council, which governs the girls living on both campuses, is now in the process of drawing up a constitution. Council officers are Elsie Pershern, president, Judy Kroll, secretary-treasurer, and Anita Lee, roving counselor.

New Transit Plan Proposed

Someone else besides the University students is very much interested in the UMD bus facilities when they go to the extensive trouble of mapping out an entirely new bus schedule so that it will benefit both the passengers and the bus company.

Mr. Allan L. Pickett, retired engineer for the Northern Pacific railway, has been an avid supporter of UMD events. But he has found that patronage from many areas of the city has dropped considerably because of the limited bus service to the UMD campus.

Mr. Pickett proposes a plan in which the University Bus would begin its run from a point

The directory gives descriptions of the type of work available with names and addresses of employers regularly needing additional summer employees. Included are summer theaters, dude ranches, travel tour agencies abroad, work camps, study awards all over the world, national parks, summer camps and resorts, and many others.

out west, perhaps New Duluth, run straight through town to the Armory and turn up the hill around 14th Avenue East and continue straight up to the UMD grounds. In this way the bus company will profit by combining passengers for the general downtown area with those of the Armory, Curling Club, Playhouse and the University events.

This would prove to be more profitable to all concerned than the East 8th bus because it would draw passengers down the hill also when the bus makes its return trip.

Mr. Pickett also suggests that the students support a test bus which would show the Transit Company that this experiment would be profitable.

He tells the students not to lose any interest in this project and let it slide, for if there is enough agitation, the bus company will have to comply. He made the statement very aptly, "a winner never quits, and a quitter never wins. Keep with it!"

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

I am writing this letter to the editor in reference to last week's editorial concerning apparent misconceptions you have concerning campus radio and station KUMD.

As a matter of information to you and your readers, KUMD plans to operate as a divisionally-sponsored student activity on a non-commercial educational basis. The present status of the local radio and TV market will be of little administrative concern to the broadcasting activity, as its operating funds will not come from competitive sources. It is an opinion shared by the entire department of speech as well as many students, that a campus and later regional FM radio station is a worthwhile activity which will provide a vast new opportunity for students to gain valuable dramatic, as well as radio broadcasting experience. KUMD, after all, is envisioned as the forerunner of educational television on this campus. Furthermore, a radio station offers a "live dramatic experience" 16 hours a day, seven days a week, whereas stage presentations offer 20 hours per quarter of this audience experience.

It was evident in your editorial you consider a radio station simply "announcing." There are innumerable important behind-the-scenes experiences to be found in a campus as well as commercial broadcasting station such as engineering, directing, copy writing, administration production and programming, just to mention a few.

Barring unforeseen difficulties, KUMD will be on the air soon with a powerful 100 watt transmitter on 880 kcs. This should provide a good signal for the upper and lower campuses and adjacent residences. It is my hope that in the future you will make an attempt to relegate your remarks to subjects about which you are adequately informed. Speaking for the UMD Broadcasting Service I realize the necessity of a close working tie with the STATESMAN and I assure you that you can count on KUMD to continue to cooperate with the STATESMAN in the future.

Respectfully,
Richard Gottschald

To the Editor:

Dear Sir:

It has been brought to my attention this past week that Sigma Tau Kappa fraternity is the only organization which has responded to a questionnaire circulated throughout 26 different organizations on campus. Early in January Miss Judy Fisher, Sports Head of WAA, attempted to determine the number of students and organizations interested in participating in a co-recreation program in our beautiful $1,600,000 physical education building.

The physical education building committee is willing to provide facilities one night per week to be used for the purpose of giving our restless, hard-studying students a change of pace from their regular routine. Can it be that only one group is interested?

WAA is to be commended for its willingness to offer a valuable service to all UMD students. In fact, this is the first time during my tour of duty here, that the purpose of an official bit of correspondence hasn't been to ask for a hand out—

I would like to plead with all campus organizations and clubs to answer this questionnaire and place it in P. O. box 149 KSC organization office.

I strongly urge the leaders of our organizations to begin by co-operating in this worthy enterprise.

Sincerely,

Vince Ekroot, UMD's big center goes high for a shot against Hamline. Following the action is a host of Hamline players and an unidentified UMD player. In the foreground is Lee Hopfenspriger who finished the night's activity with 24 points. UMD lost in its championship bid by a score of 80 to 66.

UMD Bulldogs Lose To Hamline In Title Bid

The Hamline nemesis has bounced UMD's basketball Bulldogs once again. The Bulldogs absorbed their fifteenth straight loss at the hands of the Piper quintet last Saturday night. The final score was 80-66.

The loss put UMD virtually out of title contention in the MIAC. By winning their remaining conference games, the Bulldogs can wind up the season in second place. A commendable position for our young bucket men.

In the opening sports event of Sno-Week, the Bulldogs found themselves playing before 3000-plus fans, the largest UMD gate since the Phy Ed Building's inaugural in 1953. This bit was offered to the readers, a slight compensation for the Bulldog loss. It seems that school spirit—the opponent of that widely-discussed subject, apathy—is on the mend. A few hockey echoes seem to have been heard at the Phy Ed building. Or could it have been the Hamline rooting section? In any case, the gym was rocking—and it could be attributed to Bulldog backers and Eveleth night rooters.

In spite of the loss, the Bulldogs uncovered an unsung hero—sophomore guard, Jon Sampson. Sampson led all Bulldog scorers with fifteen points. Jon played one of the finest games of his career, and certainly earned basketball plaudits for his effort.

Leading the Piper attack were freshman sensation, Lee Hopfenspriger with 24 points, Dave Schneider, 16, and Jack Stromberg with 13 points. These boys and the rest of the Hamline squad have all but assured Coach Joe Hutton of another MIAC title. Perennial winner Gustavus didn't make the grade this year. The Pipers look almost like the squad that was walloping their MIAC opponents continually some years ago.

Other leading Bulldog scorers were Jack McKillop with 13 points, Harold Bergstedt, 10 and Bob Monson with 8 points.

The Bulldogs next opponent will be Augsburg. The game will be played tomorrow night in Minneapolis.

Popular Opinion Voiced

Dear Editor:

Boy, Am I jealous. A couple of months ago the seating arrangements for the hockey games came out and was there a ruckus. Questions asked were, "What was wrong with the students? Don't we get a chance to CHEER for our team as a group?"

Next thing I knew there was a reorganization of the Pep club. Purpose of the club? To get better seats at the athletic contests for the students and to have a CHEERING section. That's where I made my mistake, I should have joined this booster organization and cheered our teams on to victory with the other interested spectators..

Well, anyway, after the big splash in the STATESMAN about reorganization of the Pep club, cheerleaders were chosen and, believe it or not, seats in the middle of the basketball and hockey arenas were reserved for the Pep club. Boy, am I a dummy!

Last Saturday nite Hamline came to town to contest with our basketballers who should hold the top spot of the conference standing in basketball for the time being. Attendance soared for the game with home town fans ready and willing to cheer our gladiators on to victory.

There was only one thing wrong with the arrangements... somebody made the mistake of permitting a small group of people ready to cheer for Hamline into the stands. Sitting up in section double E (what a dope) for the game, I got the impression that somehow or an-

Bulldogs Will Journey To Augsburg For Crucial Tilt

Tomorrow night, UMD's basketball Bulldogs will travel to Minneapolis to play one of their final MIAC games of the season against Augsburg. The Bulldogs will attempt to make it two in a row over the Auggies.

Going into the game, the Bulldogs are in third place in the conference, trailing Hamline and Macalester in the standings. A win over the Auggies could assist the Bulldogs in their bid for second place.

The week-long rest had by the Bulldogs ought to be sufficient time to confuse all fans regarding the starting five in Saturday's game. Each Bulldog effort produces a hero, the latest being Jon Sampson. Prior to this, Gene Evans and Vince Ekroot had their night of glory. Of course, there is the tried and true trio of the Bulldogs to cope with—Center Jack McKillop, Forward Bob Monson, and Guard Jim Intihar. Coach Norm Olson has numerous candidates to pick from in assigning starting posts for tomorrow's game.

the Bulldogs will play host to St. Mary's on Monday night.

Scribe's Scribblings

Some people paint pictures, some people act and some people (split personalities) write notes to themselves and throw them in the wastebasket. That's where this column was born.

Oh, yeah?

Although it was a lot of trouble, initiation did teach the pledges of one sorority an economical way to give old clothes a new twist. You just put your skirts on upside-down and your blouses on backwards, and if you haven't a regular pair of shoes handy, it's all right to wear one heel and one flat.

Oh, yeah?

WHY REPORTERS GET BITTER department: Hearing about the campus rule for girls in dorms (see story), we expected to have a good time blasting the dormitories for their strictness. Unfortunately, all the dorm girls we interviewed were 100 per cent in favor of the rule.

Oh, yeah?

Tired of your six-week-old New Year's resolutions? Then try this new set to perk up the Drab Month: 1. Participate in all Sno Week activities. 2. Attend all UMD games. 3. Write a letter to the editor of the STATESMAN.

If you do all these things, we guarantee you'll not be bored—for at least two weeks.

Oh, yeah?

Members of the STATESMAN staff are wondering whether they should be amused, insulted or flattered by a recent comparison to sandwiches (Doug Rapp, ham; Neil Landry, peanut butter, and Gene Gruba, cold turkey, over bologna-with-horseradish over jelly). Well, we can't answer that question—it's all a matter of taste. Anyone care for a bologna and jelly sandwich?

Oh, yeah?

College students, psychologists say, are supposed to be independent. If you listen to the advice of others, they say, you'll never grow up. But just how far should one carry this independence? John Brown, who massacred a band of pro slavery men, and George Metesky, the Mad Bomber of New York who was recently apprehended by police, both believed they were morally right.

Oh, yeah?

Enough for events current and otherwise. Aren't you alert newspaper readers tired of reading about bombings, plane crashes and Elvis Presley's sideburns? Wouldn't you rather learn about the care and training of Australian dingoes? Neither would we.

Yeah

Bulldog Pucksters Meet Michigan Tech for Two Games

Bulldog Notes

by Carl Jeanetta

UMD's hoopsters will now have to settle for second spot behind the Hamline Pipers. After Saturday's loss to Hamline the Bulldogs are mathematically eliminated from any hope for a better than second place finish. Hamline needs only one more win to sew up its 18th championship in 24 years. The Pipers had to settle for second place the remaining six years. (Wonder why cries of monopolistic practices haven't pierced the MIAC ranks). The Pipers have now won every game with the Bulldogs which totals a neat 15 straight.

It was evident Saturday night that our imported referees were not out to give our Bulldogs any kind of a break. I admit that this game wasn't the cleanest played at UMD, but the referees made it a standard thing to suck on their whistles when a Bulldog brushed a Hamline player and to overlook the elbows and the shoulders being thrown around by the Pipers. UMD fans can look forward to many of the same type refereeing jobs in the future. Twin City officials are required by the MIAC and it looks as though we are stuck with them.

More hot water: Our school band is one of the finest in the MIAC. It is loaded with some of the areas best musicians and has one of the finest directors in Mr. Callahan. However their programs at basketball games is far from adequate. At Saturdays game a small ill-mannered Hamline band cut in and stole the fire from our big mobile band.

A sports contest, especially basketball, needs a spirit-raising group that can start the wheels of school spirit rolling. Hamline brutally proved this fact Saturday night. Its a little late to do anything this year, but in the future I hope that something can be done to remedy this situation. A compromise should be worked out among the proper channels so that we can use our pep-band to keep the school spirit alive as well as have our school band supply a much needed program of rousing marches and lively music.

M Club Briefs

By C. JEANETTA

At last week's 'M' Club meeting it was decided that members in good standing would receive their 'M' pins at the honor banquet this spring.

The following amendment has been passed and written into the constitution: "All 'M' club members have to attend two-thirds of the scheduled meetings. After having done so he will be considered a member in good standing and therefore eligible for the 'M' pin. Final decision as to the awarding of the pins lies in the hands of our officers."

A notice board has been acquired by the club and will be posted on the Physical Education bulletin board. All of the meetings are scheduled for the first and third Wednesdays of the month. At 7:30 the general meeting is held which usually lasts until 8:30, after which some organized recreation is followed by "chow time." If you want your pin as well as a good time join your teammates at the next 'M' club meeting.

The UMD hockey team leaves for Houghton, Mich., this morning for a two game series with the Michigan Tech Junior Varsity. The teams will face off at 8 p. m. tonight and play the second game starting at 8 p. m. tomorrow.

Pucksters Are Given Scare

The UMD pucksters increased their winning streak over the MIAC to 25 games as they gained a 4-3 victory over St. John's.

The Bulldogs were for the first time this season plagued with the possibility of an upset.

Tech fell victims of the well balanced Bulldogs 7-0 and 11-3 on January 25-26. The JV's, strengthened by a number of second semester players and the possibility of a third line taken from the Varsity, are set to put a halt to UMD's winning ways.

After Mike Horn opened the scoring for UMD the Johnnies scored twice to send the surprised puckmen back on their heels.

Smith, who had assisted on Horn's first goal took a pass from Alex Sisto and tied it up at 10 minutes and 11 seconds of the second period. The game remained at a 2-2 deadlock until 2:30 of the final stanza when Larry 'Jot' Cronkhite scored on an assist from Bernard Cousineau.

Harvey Flaman and his right-winger Elmer Schwartz made it 4-2 at 3:54 which ended UMD's scoring but not that of the scrappy St. John's sextet. At 4:15 St. John's took advantage of faulty clearing of an iced puck for their third goal.

Dick Gustafson in the UMD net was called on to make 14 stops while Chick Cullen turned aside 19.

UMD hasn't lost since Jan. 3 when the powerful U. S. world tournament team handed them a 8-6 setback. They have defeated all MIAC opponents, except Gustavus, twice and with their two victories are working on a 13 game winning streak.

The Bulldogs, who were powered by the Harvey Flaman, Elmer Schwartz, and Butch Curran trio, can now rely on a scoring punch from its other two lines. The 'Kid' line of freshmen Bernard Cousineau, and Larry Cronkhite and sophomore Don Wilkie share the spotlight with the first line, and Mike Horn, Alex Sisto, and Bob Smith who lacked early season scoring punch have figured in the scoring of the previous games.

The young defensive unit, four of the five newcomers, drew praise from Coach Pleban for their fine performances so far this season. Of the five, John Bymark, Ron Pretlac, Don Judnick, Jerry Abelsen and Jerry Olson, only Bymark is a letterman.

Pleban was also satisfied with the workings of reserve goalie Dick Gustafson. Gus, a native of Fort Frances, played the Macalester, Hamline and St. John's games and proved a fitting replacement for the remarkable Jerry Kleisinger.

Table Tennis Tournament

UMD's first table tennis tournament turned out to be a big success. Thirty-six entries signed up for the event. Participants included six members of the faculty: Messrs. Gum, Chelgren, Archerd, Falk and Doctors Rickert and Smith.

Mr. Falk succeeded in reaching the second round before being eliminated. Mr. Gum, the pride of OSPS, drove and slammed his way to become runner-up for the tourney.

The four semi-finalists were: Mr. Gum, Jack Bernard, Dave Glass and Jim Barschdorf. Gum defeated Bernard to reach the finals in one of the finest matches of the evening. After losing the first game to Bernard, the driving pen-holder came back strong to edge out his able opponent, 21-18 before he tired. Then, Bernard whipped his opponent soundly, 21-6. The fourth game was a thriller with Gum the winner, 22-20. His second wind back, Gum smashed and drove his adversary to submission 21-11 to win the match.

Barschdorf gained the finals by beating Dave Glass, 21-12, 21-8 and 21-11. Barschdorf defeated Mr. Gum in the finals, four games to two. Gum won the first and fifth games. 21-18 and 21-19. Barschdorf won the second, third, fourth and sixth games 21-13, 21-16, 26-24, and 21-19.

Since the tournament was such a big success, the sentiment among the enthusiasts is to form a table tennis club. The purpose of the club would be to promote more interest among the students and the faculty for table tennis. The club would meet once a week for instruction and competition. Girls will be welcome to join. Mixed doubles will be planned. Later, if the club is well organized, competition may be possible with other schools.

Bird-dog . . .

The typical bird-dog stalks his prey by night, generally at social functions such as fraternity parties, dances, and other such activities. Presumably the UMD MR. BIRD-DOG will be elected on his merits as a salesman, on technique, style, and execution. The competition is expected to be quite stiff, since the ratio of males to females is roughly four to one at UMD. With such a situation there must be a number of these creatures on campus who have attained a high degree of perfection.

A prominent bird-dog of our acquaintance developed a definite philosophy about his profession. He attributes his success to his motto: "Intellectual in the approach, animal in the execution." Now that this secret is out, almost any male on campus can wander into the next party and bird-dog women to his heart's content.

Students may vote for the candidate of their choice by dropping money for the Campus Chest in the appropriate jars provided by the election committee. The following scale will be used to compute votes: 1 vote for each penny; 6 votes for each nickel; 12 votes for a dime; 30 for a quarter, and 75 for each half dollar. The candidate receiving the most money will be declared the winner.

Voting will be carried out during the week of Feb. 25, with the winner being announced at the Campus Chest dance March 1. Voting booths will be provided in KSC and Main.

Sweet, smooth and sassy—that's Chevrolet all over. Above, you're looking at the Bel Air Sport Coupe.

Clings to the road like a stripe of paint!

The '57 Chevy can give lessons on taking curves and holding the road to just about any car going. Few cars at any price are so beautifully balanced and so smooth, sure and solid in action.

A car has to have a special kind of build and balance to keep curves under control. And nobody outdoes Chevrolet in that department! It "corners" with all the solid assurance of an honest-to-goodness sports car. Chevy doesn't throw its weight around on turns because it carries its pounds in the right places.

And if the road should turn upward, Chevy can take care of that nicely, too—with up to 245 h.p.*

Come on in and take a turn at the wheel of a new Chevrolet.
